

Video Recommendations for Fruitbelt Exhibit

Fruit of Dreams: the Mexican cherry pickers of Traverse City. Written, produced and directed by William Jamerson. 1995.

- 1 Videocassette (28min)
- Chronicles the experience of Mexican farm workers in the Traverse City area from the 1920's to the 1970's.
- Can be found at Forgotten Films and Video, Traverse City MI.
- Contact:

Bill Jamerson

Forgotten Films P.O. Box 792

Escanaba, MI 49829

906-4200-3100

bill.jamerson@chartermi.net

ISBN 1-882882-01-6 ISBN 1-882882-01-6

$24.95 plus $3 Shipping & Handling

Middle West Environment

- 1 Videocassette (19min), Juvenile audience Grades 4-8.
- An exploration of the varied climate of the plains area of the United States (mid-west), as well as information about the wide variety of natural resources found there.
- 100% Educational Videos, El Dorado Hills, California.
- A preview can be seen, and the video can be purchased from the link:
www.schoolvideos.com. $39.95.

Remembering the Mentha Mint Farm.

Produced by Mark Jenness in cooperation with John Provancher, Western Michigan University Media Services.

- 1 Videocassette (26min)
- Presents the story of Mentha, Michigan mint farm, centerpieces of the A.M. Todd Essentials Oils Company through the early 1940's. Historic and modern views of Mentha and the mint growing process are combined with reminiscences of the daughters of Richard Stroud.
- Produced at the Facilities of Media Services, Western Michigan University, 1989.
- Contact the Western Michigan Library at 269-387-5176. The Acquisition Department will help you.

The World, a Television History. The Agricultural Revolution, 8000-5000 BC.

Network Television/Goldcrest Television, Producer Nicholas Barton. 1985

- 1 Videocassette (26min)
- Describes the gradual transformation of man the hunter and fisher into the farmer. Tells how the process of selecting, breeding, domesticating, and spectacular growth in human population which followed.
- Landmark Films, Falls Church, VA.
- Can be purchased on the site www.buvindies.com. $3,395 for the complete series.

Food for the Future

- 1 Videocassette (105min)
- A national teleconference on agriscience which surveys agricultural experimentation, held at the Kraft Pavilion at Epcot Center, Florida. Discusses the world of agriscience and its progressing futures highlighting the areas of biogenetics, space agriculture and hydroponics.
- Published by University of Florida, in cooperation with the USDA, Delta Airlines, Inc. and Walt Disney World Resort. 1989.

- Contact the University of Florida Library: Judy Rummel by phone at 392-0355 X244 or by email at rummel@mail.uflib.ufl.edu.